Overview. Ridgeline Comfort Services LLC ("Ridgeline" or the "Company") is a residential and light-commercial HVAC and plumbing contractor based in Columbus, Ohio, serving Franklin, Delaware and Licking counties within about a 35-mile radius. The Company was founded in 2009 by Mark Delaney after 12 years as a lead technician at a regional HVAC contractor; plumbing service was added in 2019. It employs 24 people: 14 service technicians, a 4-person install crew, 3 customer service and dispatch staff, an operations manager, a bookkeeper and the owner. Ridgeline holds 1,450 active maintenance-agreement members and serves commercial accounts that include property managers, small office buildings and four restaurant groups; the largest customer is about 4% of revenue. FY2025 revenue of $3.04M was 64% residential service and replacement, 27% commercial and 9% maintenance agreements. The Company is an S corporation wholly owned by Mr. Delaney, who is retiring at 61.

Earnings. Reported EBITDA of $316.4K in FY2025 understates the earnings available to a buyer because the owner was paid $200K against a $95K replacement salary and the books carry $31.5K of personal and nonrecurring expense. Adj. EBITDA was $452.9K (14.9% margin) and SDE $547.9K; the schedule on page 4 lists each adjustment with its evidence (1).

Transaction. The owner is offering substantially all of the operating assets of Ridgeline, free and clear of liens; the Seller retains cash, receivables and payables. The Ridgeline name, the 24 employees and the Maple Ave lease (through 2029 with a 5-year option) transfer with the business. The owner has offered up to 12 months of full-time transition, including introductions to each commercial account, and the operations manager (11 years) is expected to remain (2). The Seller is targeting a closing within 12 months.

Takeaway: Adj. EBITDA grew at a 31.2% CAGR, 2.5 times the revenue CAGR, because operating expenses excluding owner compensation rose 9.9% a year against 12.4% for revenue.

Revenue and Adj. EBITDA ($000s)

Margin 10.9% to 14.9%

Both years grew at double digits. Revenue rose 13.0% in FY2024 and 11.9% in FY2025, and gross profit grew faster than revenue in each year (13.9% and 12.6%).

Gross margin widened 90 bps. Cost of revenue grew at an 11.1% CAGR against 12.4% for revenue; parts and equipment come through Ferguson, Johnstone Supply and the local Carrier distributor.

Expenses grew slower than revenue. Operating expenses grew 11.3% in FY2024 and 7.3% in FY2025, both below revenue growth, and Reported EBITDA margin rose from 6.5% to 10.4%.

Owner pay sits inside operating expenses. The owner drew $200K in FY2025 against a $95K replacement salary; that $105K is the largest of the $136.5K of adjustments itemized on page 4.

(1) Owner compensation above the $95K replacement salary, personal expenses and one nonrecurring settlement; itemized on page 4.

Adj. EBITDA of $453K in FY2025 restates $200K of owner pay to a $95K salary and removes $31.5K of personal and nonrecurring cost

Adjusted EBITDA
Reconciliation and support

Five adjustments, each tied to a payroll record or a ledger account; owner compensation is 77% of the FY2025 total.

Exhibit 1
Tier codes [S] and [N]; SDE shown

Adjusted EBITDA reconciliation ($000s)

Ref	Adjustment	FY2023	FY2024	FY2025	Basis and evidence
	Reported EBITDA	$157.0	$212.2	$316.4	QuickBooks Online P&L; before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization
[S1]	Owner compensation above replacement cost	85.0	95.0	105.0	Owner W-2 pay of $180K, $190K and $200K per payroll register, less a $95K general manager salary (2)
[N1]	Owner personal vehicle	16.0	17.0	18.0	Payments, fuel and insurance on a vehicle used personally; general ledger auto expense (1)
[N2]	Charitable contributions	5.0	6.0	7.5	Donations to local organizations; discretionary and not tied to any customer account
[N3]	One-time legal settlement	–	24.0	–	Single matter settled and paid in FY2024; no comparable expense in FY2023 or FY2025
[N4]	Family phones and personal meals	–	–	6.0	Family phone lines and meals coded to business expense in FY2025, per ledger review (1)
	Total adjustments	$106.0	$142.0	$136.5	43% of Reported EBITDA in FY2025, down from 68% in FY2023 as earnings grew
	Adj. EBITDA	$263.0	$354.2	$452.9	Earnings after a market-rate general manager replaces the owner
	% margin	10.9%	13.0%	14.9%
	(+) Owner replacement salary	95.0	95.0	95.0	Added back to state the earnings available to a single owner-operator (2)
	SDE	$358.0	$449.2	$547.9	Seller's discretionary earnings, the Main Street convention for businesses of this size
	% margin	14.9%	16.5%	18.0%

Takeaway: Adjustments are 43% of FY2025 Reported EBITDA and 77% of them are one payroll line, so diligence on Adj. EBITDA is mainly a test of the $95K replacement salary.

Owner compensation is the only large item. [S1] restates the owner's pay of $200K in FY2025 to the $95K a general manager would cost, and accounts for $105K of the $136.5K of FY2025 adjustments (77%).

Personal expense is small and specific. [N1], [N2] and [N4] total $31.5K in FY2025, 1.0% of revenue, and each maps to a named ledger account.

One nonrecurring item, in one year. The $24K settlement [N3] fell in FY2024 only. Even without the add-back, FY2024 Adj. EBITDA would have grown 26% over FY2023.

Owner pay rose $10K a year. W-2 pay went from $180K to $200K over FY2023–FY2025 while the replacement salary is held flat at $95K, so [S1] rises from $85K to $105K.

SDE is the Main Street headline. SDE of $547.9K (18.0% of revenue) adds the $95K salary back to Adj. EBITDA; it is the measure an owner-operator buyer would use.

Nothing pro forma is included. The schedule does not assume price increases, after-hours plumbing, added maintenance penetration or any change in staffing; each is left to the buyer's own plan.

(2) Market salary for a general manager in the Columbus market, per management; a buyer's own estimate may differ.

Revenue lines and customer profile (FY2025, $000s)

Service line	Revenue	%	What the customer buys	Customers and concentration
Residential service and replacement	1,946.1	64.0%	Repairs, system replacements and plumbing service	Homeowners in Franklin, Delaware and Licking counties
Commercial	821.0	27.0%	Service, replacement and preventive maintenance	Property managers, small offices and four restaurant groups; largest (C-001) 4%
Maintenance agreements	273.7	9.0%	Two tune-ups a year, priority scheduling, 15% repair discount	1,450 members; 82% renewal (1); $189 per member
Total	$3,040.8	100.0%

Concentration is low. The largest customer, a commercial property manager (C-001), is about 4% of FY2025 revenue; the residential line, 64% of revenue, is single-household jobs.

Maintenance agreements are the recurring layer. 1,450 members paid $273.7K in FY2025, about $189 each, and renew at 82% (1); two tune-ups a year and a 15% repair discount keep members' repair work with Ridgeline.

Attach rate is the open lever. Agreements are offered on about 35% of service calls (1), and two property managers have asked for quotes on additional buildings.

Reviews, not paid marketing, generate leads. Most leads come from referrals and a 4.8 Google rating on more than 900 reviews (1); paid digital spend is small.

Operations and people
Organization and facilities

18 vans, 2 trucks, an 8,000 sq ft shop leased through 2029 and ServiceTitan dispatch all transfer with the business.

Exhibit 1
Management named; others by role

Team. Ridgeline employs 24 people, all full time and non-union: 14 service technicians, a 4-person install crew, 3 customer service and dispatch staff, an operations manager, a bookkeeper and the owner. Technicians are paid hourly plus spiff commissions on maintenance agreements sold on service calls, which ties field pay to the recurring base. Lisa Tran, operations manager for 11 years, runs dispatch and day-to-day scheduling through ServiceTitan and is expected to remain with the business (1).

Owner role. Mark Delaney works about 45 hours a week on four tasks: estimating large replacements, commercial relationships, vendor terms and hiring. None of the four is a field role, and together they map to the general manager position that management costs at $95,000 a year (2). He has offered up to 12 months of full-time transition and will introduce the buyer to each commercial account.

Facilities and fleet. The Company leases an 8,000 sq ft shop and office on Maple Ave from an unrelated landlord; the lease runs through 2029 with a 5-year renewal option. It owns 18 service vans and 2 install trucks, financed with vehicle loans; in an asset sale the vehicles transfer free and clear of those loans.

Systems and suppliers. Dispatch, invoicing and memberships run on ServiceTitan and the books on QuickBooks Online, so job-level revenue by type ties to the financial statements. Parts and equipment come from Ferguson, Johnstone Supply and the local Carrier distributor; Ridgeline has been a Carrier Factory Authorized Dealer since 2015. Its Google rating is 4.8 on more than 900 reviews (1).

Owner dependence and the $95K replacement salary lead buyer diligence; the largest customer is 4% and the lease runs through 2029

Each item states what the data shows and how it is addressed; none is adjusted for in Adj. EBITDA on page 4.

Exhibit 1
Six items, each with the data and the response

Considerations for buyers

Consideration	What the data shows	How it is addressed
Owner involvement	The owner works about 45 hours a week on estimating large replacements, commercial relationships, vendor terms and hiring. None of the four is a field role, and none is delegated today.	The operations manager (11 years) already runs dispatch and scheduling. The owner offers up to 12 months of full-time transition, and Adj. EBITDA carries a $95K general manager salary in his place (page 4).
Replacement salary	Adj. EBITDA of $452.9K assumes a $95K general manager. Each $10K above that figure reduces Adj. EBITDA by $10K, or 2.2%.	The figure is management's estimate for the Columbus market (1). A buyer can substitute its own number without changing any other line of the schedule.
Maintenance-agreement renewal	1,450 members renew at 82% (1), so about 260 members must be replaced each year to hold the base flat. Agreement revenue was $273.7K in FY2025, 9.0% of the total.	Agreements are offered on about 35% of service calls (1); technicians earn a spiff on each sale, and the two-tune-up cycle puts a technician in each member's home twice a year.
Field labor	Field labor is 18 of 24 employees (14 technicians, 4 installers). Pay is hourly plus commissions, non-union, and hiring is one of the owner's four roles.	The current crew delivered the 12.4% revenue CAGR without a change in headcount reported by management (1). Hiring transfers to the general manager during the 12-month transition.
Customer concentration	The largest customer, a commercial property manager (C-001), is about 4% of FY2025 revenue. Residential work, 64% of revenue, consists of single-household jobs.	No single account is material to earnings. The owner will introduce the buyer to each commercial account during the transition period.
Premises and fleet	The 8,000 sq ft shop is leased from an unrelated landlord through 2029 with a 5-year renewal option. The 18 vans and 2 trucks are owned and financed with vehicle loans.	The lease has about three years of term plus the 5-year option. In an asset sale the Seller repays the vehicle loans at closing and the fleet transfers free and clear of liens.

Takeaway: Four of the six items resolve to the same test, whether a $95K general manager and the 11-year operations manager can carry the owner's four roles; the other two (concentration at 4%, a lease with three years plus an option) are matters of record.

(1) Per management; not independently verified.
