Note: Figures in USD thousands unless noted. Financials are as provided by the Seller and have not been independently audited. Adj. EBITDA and SDE are non-GAAP measures; see page 16 for the reconciliation to net income. Adj. EBITDA is after a capital reserve [S3] for maintenance capital spending; before it, FY2025 Adj. Five buyer tests led by a 45-hour owner week and a 19.3% FY2025 top-10 share; the owner stays 12 months

Considerations for buyers (FY2025 unless noted)

Consideration	What the data shows	How it is addressed
Owner involvement	The owner works about 45 hours a week on estimating large replacements, commercial relationships, vendor terms and hiring (1). Commercial service, 27% of revenue, rests on his relationships; dispatch and scheduling already sit with the operations manager.	The owner will stay up to 12 months after closing and introduce the commercial customers (1). Adj. EBITDA already deducts $109.3K for a general manager, so the earnings shown pay for his replacement.
Customer concentration	The largest customer, C-001, is 4.0% of revenue and the top 10 are 19.3%; households and members not listed individually make up 73.3%.	Losing C-001 in full would remove $121.6K of revenue, less than FY2025 growth of $322.2K; of the top 10, 9 have bought for five years or more.
Technician labor	Field employees are 18 of 23, paid hourly plus spiff commissions on maintenance agreements, with no union (1). Payroll excluding the owner was 29.3% of revenue.	Hires matched departures in FY2025 at 3 each, and field employees average 6.4 years of tenure. The operations manager, with the Company 11 years, runs dispatch (1).
Add-back quality	Adjustments from Reported EBITDA of $319.5K to Adj. EBITDA of $385.7K total $66.2K; the owner's $200,000 salary is the largest add-back, net of the $109.3K replacement.	Each adjustment is listed with its basis and evidence on page 17. Excluding the $24.0K resting on management representation (N1, N3) lowers the FY2025 Adj. EBITDA margin by 79 bps. Nothing pro forma is included.
Financial reporting	Company financial statements (QuickBooks Online), FY2023–FY2025, accrual basis, unaudited, kept by an in-house bookkeeper. Operating bank deposits of $3.00M were 98.5% of FY2025 revenue.	Monthly financial statements, general-ledger account detail, bank statements, the payroll register and the customer list support the reconciliation; federal tax returns for the years shown are [Confirm: available].

Observations (keyed to adjustments by evidence)

- A Documented add-backs of $207.5K are 85% of the $245.4K added back in FY2025; each cites its account on page 17.
- B The settled customer dispute [N2], $24.0K, falls in FY2024 only, which is why add-backs peak that year.
- C The owner's payroll taxes [S4] are calculated at statutory rates on his salary as paid [S1], the documented add-back above.
- D Management representations are 10% of add-backs: the owner's vehicle and family phones and meals (N1, N3).
- E Deductions of $179.2K are nearly level: replacement pay [S2] and the reserve [S3] are one amount for every year.

Largest changes in cost ratios (bps, FY23–FY25)

Observations (keyed to the cost structure)

A Payroll excluding the owner, 29.3% of revenue, moved down 50 bps since FY2023: office wages fell from 4.9% to 4.3% of revenue while technician wages, which rise with the work, held at 21.3%.

B Owner compensation fell to 7.0% of revenue from 8.0% in FY2023 because the salary rose 5.4% a year while revenue grew 12.4%; a buyer replaces it at the market cost on page 17.

C Rent of $76.4K rose 3.0% a year under the Maple Ave lease, which runs through 2029 with a five-year renewal option (1), so its share fell as revenue grew.

D A $24.0K settled customer dispute raised legal fees in FY2024 only; it is removed as a one-time item [N2] (page 17), so it does not reach Adj. EBITDA.

Reported EBITDA to Adj. EBITDA (FY2025, $000s)

Observations (keyed to the EBITDA ladder)

A Normalizations add $28.4K for the owner's personal vehicle, family phones and meals and charitable giving, less $3.1K of interest income that is not operating.

B SDE of $561.8K, 18.5% of revenue, adds back the owner's $200,000 salary and $13.9K of his payroll taxes; it is the earnings of an owner who runs the Company full time.

C Adj. EBITDA of $385.7K deducts a general manager at $95,000 plus 15% burden, and a reserve equal to three-year average depreciation of $66.8K.

Takeaway: An owner-operator who takes Mark Delaney's place underwrites SDE of $561.8K; a buyer who hires a general manager underwrites Adj. EBITDA of $385.7K. Nothing pro forma is included; the figures assume no change in pricing, headcount or the maintenance-agreement program after closing.

The owner targets a closing within 12 months and will stay up to 12 months after it

The offering. Mark Delaney, the founder and owner, is offering the operating assets of Ridgeline Comfort Services LLC; he prefers an asset sale (1). He is retiring at 61 and wants a clean exit within 12 months. He is open to a buyer keeping the Ridgeline name and all 23 employees. Offers should assume an asset purchase in which the Seller keeps cash, receivables and payables.

Transition and people. The owner will stay up to 12 months after closing and introduce the commercial customers (1). Lisa Tran, operations manager and with the Company 11 years, runs dispatch and day-to-day scheduling and is expected to stay. The 18 field employees are paid hourly plus spiff commissions on maintenance agreements, with no union.

Premises, fleet and systems. The Company leases an 8,000 sq ft shop and office on Maple Ave from an unrelated landlord; the lease runs through 2029 with a five-year renewal option (1). The fleet is 18 service vans and 2 install trucks, owned and financed with vehicle loans. ServiceTitan runs dispatch, invoicing and memberships, and QuickBooks Online the books.

How to proceed. We will invite qualified buyers who have signed a confidentiality agreement to an introductory call and then a management meeting, on the timetable set out on this page. All inquiries should be directed to AMB Advisory. Do not contact the Seller or its employees directly.
